

The 3rd Annual DC SWAN Day is coming Saturday, March 27!

The Georgetown Theatre Company and Women in Film and Video bring a Day of FREE Performances by Women Artists to Georgetown!

FULL SCHEDULE COMING SOON

At Grace Church:

1:00-6:00pm Staged Reading Marathon – Full-length, one-act and 15-minute plays by Women from around the USA – and beyond! Performed and directed by DC’s best theatre talent.

HIGHLIGHT: Don’t miss Rebecca Nesvet’s adaptation of Mary Shelley’s story, The Mortal Immortal

At Barnes & Noble:

12noon Dishing with the Girls - an open discussion between a panel of women artists & the community

1:00-3:00pm Performances, including Poetry, Theatre and Performance Art

HIGHLIGHT: Don’t miss BodyLogue, Deepti Gupta’s story of growing up in India, surrounded by negative messages about dark skin, weight and being a woman.

At CDIA Boston in The Foundry:

1:00pm short films by an elite selection of female film talent

At MOCA Gallery in Canal Square:

2:00-5:00pm, and 7:00-8:30pm The Edgy Stuff – Performances & readings that aren’t for the under-aged

HIGHLIGHT: 2:00pm sketch comedy by New York’s Curvy By Nature

HIGHLIGHT: 7:00pm Staged Reading & Discussion of Belle Parricide, a collaborative theatre work about incest and murder – based on a True Crime...of Renaissance Italy.

“I’m from the suburbs. How do I find these places?” Here are the addresses:

Barnes & Noble, 3040 M Street, NW - corner of M & Thomas Jefferson Streets, NW

CDIA Boston in The Foundry, 1055 Thomas Jefferson St., NW

Grace Church, 1041 Wisconsin Ave., NW

MOCA Gallery in Canal Square, 1054 31st St, NW -- or enter Canal Square from M St.

All walking distance from each other!